Activities for all ages

Birthday parties, family reunions, corporate picnics, etc.

Activities are easily adapted to fit your audience. You can stay local and explore nearby woods and a local stream, or go bigger travelling to Antietam for a caving experience or Delta, PA for Guppy Gulch (official website). So, let's look at a Guppy Gulch video for a minute. There are no other places like this for your next party, but private groups can't go to Guppy Gulch without EcoTech Camps, LLC and Emmorton Rec.

Scroll down for more.

Your Guppy Gulch Party

It's right in Delta, PA, which is only 35 minutes away from Bel Air, MD. All year long, they certify SCUBA divers in the crystal clear waters of this former slate quarry, but from June into September, it's an extreme water park experience. With inflatable apparatus like a 19-ft tall mountain, a blob, the Lilli-pads, a 15-ft sliding board, and other features like a cliff jump, zip-line, paddleboards, canoes, pedal boats; this will be a day to remember.

Spelunking

Dam #4 Cave is right along the C&O Canal Tow Path about an hour outside Baltimore. It is great for novices wearing bike helmet and a flashlight. How about a campfire afterwards? S'mores anyone?

Tubing

Float down your local river or take a trip to a better location. We have the tubes, PFD's and a guide in a kayak or canoe. Good old-fashioned fun!

Seining

If you're not a great fisherman, this is the secret to getting the biggest catch ever. It's hard to miss with a 12' net. From streams to the bay, you'll get to put your wet hands on some slimy critters. Set up a fish tank to display your catch. We'll help!

Crabbing

Good old-fashioned chicken-necking off a pier. Couple this with a crab feast/dissection, and you're kids will have a meaningful bay experience they won't soon forget. This picture was taken at Sandy Point State Park. You can seine there too, or just swim at the beach area. They rent boats there as well.

Hike the Billy Goat Trail

This is, perhaps, the most picturesque hike in Maryland. It is rugged, but it can be adjusted to suit the abilities of any group. Along the C&O Canal Tow Path, the views are over-shadowed, at times, by the diverse wildlife on the trail.

Snorkeling in a stream?

Don't knock it, 'til you've tried it. You don't know your local stream until you've put your face into it. Amazing!

Wet 'n' Wild Water Wars

Any party is better with some colored tee-shirts and squirt-guns. But this is war! Make no mistake. It's very serious...with rules, strategy... Aw, never mind. It's crazy fun.

Nature Photography

With a little instruction, your participants will go out into nature for a digital photography scavenger hunt. This is where art meets science.
